SAFE FROM WHITE CAPS NOW.

Louis Spyder, of Corona Effigy Fame, Jailed as a Vagrant.

Arrested in Brooklyn on Suspicion of Being a Burglar.

Louis Spyder, a handsome young man, whose clothes are shabby, although of good quality, was held in the Lee Avenue Court, Williamsburg, to-day, on a charge of vagrancy, and went to jail in default of $500 bail.

Policeman Bruns believes that Spyder robbed a liquor saloon on Driggs avenue, but as the proof was not very clear, he decided to prosecute him only on the vagrancy charge.

Spyder is the young man who was known to the residents of the old Long Island town of Corona as the German Central. He arrived here from Germany about six months ago and went to live with his uncle, Henry Spyder, who had a small grocery store in the town.

Louis speedily won the regard of the townspeople by his stories of life in the German army. He explained that he was left behind because of a duel in which he had killed his captain.

Mrs. Spyder, however, was won by these tales of war. She soon conceived a violent affection for her nephew and would have married him, according to his story, she drove him out of the house.

When Spyder was arrested yesterday he gave a fictitious address, but afterwards admitted that he had come from Corona. Policemen Bruns went there yesterday and learned all of the young man's history from various people.

When Spyder was seen this morning he declined to say what he had been doing since he left Corona, or where his aunt was.

"I have had pretty rough sledding," he said, "but it is nobody's business where I have been or what I have done."

BROOKLYN SNEAK THIEVES.

Operations in Widely Separated Parts of the City Last Night.

A gang of sneak-thieves operated in Brooklyn during the early hours of the morning. They did their work in widely separated parts of the city and secured considerable plunder.

James Lockwood reported to the police that thieves entered his rooms on the second floor of 400 Broadway avenue with false keys and stole his watch and clock valued at $50.

Bernard Sturges, who lives on the third floor of 153 McKibbin street, reported that he had been robbed of a watch and jewelry valued at $100.

Peter Becker was another victim. He lives on Conyngham street, and jewelry worth $200 and $200 in money were carried away.

William A. Van Dusen, of 34 Livingston street, reported that thieves stole $100 from him, and a complete outfit of tools worth $50.

REPUBLICANS IN CONTROL.

Fischer's Election Gives Them a Majority of One Supervisor.

Republicans throughout Kings County are jubilant over the election of Augustus Fischer as Supervisor from the Eighth Ward.

Upon the election depended the controlling power in the Board of Supervisors. Fischer's plurality of 125 was a big surprise to the Democrats. He received a total of 1,000 votes, while the regular Democrat, 1,861; Hanbury, independent Republican, 536; Hogan, Democrat, 337.

Fischer will now take the much contested seat left vacant by the death of the late Supervisor.

The Republican Supervisors now have a majority of one, with Mayor Schieren sitting an ex-officio seat.

Majority of the Board, it was said, will be a fine of $50 for neglect of duty.

HAD CHECKS IN HIS POCKET.

Jersey City Police Took Williams as a Crook.

John Williams, colored, was held for further examination by Judge O'Donnell, in Jersey City, this morning, as a suspicious person. Williams was arrested last night while running along Newark avenue with a whiskey barrel on his shoulder.

When searched in the police station, twenty-five checks, ranging in amounts from $50 to $200 were found on his person.

Some were on the Second National Bank and were signed by Charles Smith, while others were on the Jersey City Bank and signed by J. Williams.

At the court, this morning, the man said that his right name was John Williams, and that he had just left the Soldiers' Home at Port Jervis, Monroe. The police think that the man is a sneak thief, as a number of pawn tickets were found in his pockets.

$1,000 Blame in Brooklyn.
Fire broke out from some unknown cause between 12 and 1 o'clock this morning on the top floor of the two-story frame dwelling 71 McDonald street, Brooklyn, owned and occupied by John Smith.

After about $1,000 damage to books and furniture, the fire was extinguished by the fire department, and the fire was caused by a candle on the mantel.

Smith's loss at 1000 and Craft only $100.

Clara Freund May Not Recover.
Clara Freund, the fourteen-year-old girl who was shot by Fritz Kottke, who threatened to kill her at the home of her parents, 55 Vermont street, Brooklyn, Monday afternoon, still lies in a critical condition at St. Mary's Hospital. The Christians think she cannot recover.

PLAIN TALK TO THE BISHOP.
His Lordship Asked Questions, and the Artist Rebuked Him.

A venerable and pompous English bishop was having a conversation with the artist, after sitting for an hour in silence the churchman thought he would break the monotony with a remark, says the St. Louis Public.

"How are you getting along?" he inquired.

BEAT HIS PARTNER'S WIFE.

Mrs. Bauman Said to Be Critically Ill from Cohen's Blows.

Outcome of a Row in a Brooklyn Concert Garden.

Mrs. George Bauman, wife of one of the proprietors of the concert hall at 54 Graham avenue, Williamsburg, is in a critical condition to-day, in her rooms over the hall. She was terribly beaten last night, and the probabilities are that she will not recover.

Her husband, with several other witnesses, called at the Ewen Street Court this morning, to secure a warrant for the arrest of Bauman's partner, David Cohen, whom they allege, committed the assault.

Bauman & Cohen have been partners in the concert hall for several years. They got along pleasantly until a couple of weeks ago when Bauman says he discovered that the firm was making little if any money.

"I made an investigation," he declared, "and discovered that Cohen was in the habit of taking cash out of the drawer and putting due-bills in its place."

"I objected to this and ordered him out of the place. He refused to go, and he had a fight. I thrashed Cohen and he was arrested for assault."

"The case has not as yet been disposed of." Cohen tried to get Bauman to conduct the business himself.

Cohen tried to get in the place again, but Bauman hired two big bartenders and two special police who regularly thrashed Cohen out whenever he appeared.

Last night, Cohen entered, as usual, and tried to get behind the bar. He had with him two bottles of netter water, with the contents of which he bombarded the bartenders. When they recovered from their surprise, they tried to put him out, but Cohen banged them over the head with the bottles.

Then Bauman appeared on the scene. He says he tried to quiet Cohen, but was unable to do so.

"At the time," he said, "there were about twenty people in the garden. Mrs. Bauman ran over to where I was talking to Cohen and asked him to keep quiet. He said he would, but he did not."

"I tried to stop her, and then Cohen struck my wife in the stomach, knocking her down. He then tried to get at me, but I ran away."

"An Evening World" reporter called at the house 54 Graham avenue this morning and the arrested Cohen was in custody. The doctor pronounced her condition critical.

LEGAL LOVERS' VOWS.

An English Paper Proposes to Simplify Breach of Promise Suits.

The London Spectator, moved by the painful spectacle of the modern breach of promise case, proposes a novel expedient to overcome the difficulties which such suits present. It says:

There would be one very simple method of lightening the task of the jury, which would also afford to young women and their guardians a means of ascertaining whether the man who had promised to marry them was a scoundrel or a scoundrel.

It would be to require the man who proposed to marry a woman to sign a declaration that he was a scoundrel or a scoundrel.

SEVEN DIED WITH SMALL-POX.

One of the Patients Was Stricken a Week Ago.

Fears of an Epidemic in a Crowded Brooklyn District.

A dangerous outbreak of small-pox was reported from 47 Underhill avenue, Brooklyn, this morning. Seven persons who were stricken with the disease were removed to the Hospital for Contagious Diseases, at Flatbush, last night, and the probabilities are that the premises were thoroughly fumigated and quarantined.

It is feared that persons living in the vicinity will be stricken, as the section is thickly populated.

The seven patients are: Joseph Curtis, thirty-seven years old; Mary Dungan, thirty-three; Sarah Nevin, forty-three; William Nevin, four; Edward Kencer, four; Mary Kencer, nineteen months, and Emily Kencer, seven weeks.

The Curtis and Nevin families occupy the lower floor, and the others live upstairs.

A week ago one of the children was taken ill. The child's parents thought a physician's services were unnecessary and none was called. A day or two later several others were taken ill and a rumor was spread that they had measles.

A physician called at the house last night and saw at a glance that the inmates were down with small-pox. While the doctor was making an examination, the neighbors crowded into the house and stood around in the yard discussing the doctor's call. Policemen have been ordered to guard the premises, with orders to clear the yard of the crowd.

The health officials fear the delay in securing the patients may result seriously, as persons have been taken in and out of the house for the last week.

SEX IN MOSQUITOES.

It Is the Female of the Family That Does the Biting.

The male of the mosquito is not a common intruder; and we confess that we do not recall capturing one. We do not now recall capturing one.

The independent writer observed for the first time a dense swarm of what appeared to be mosquitoes, but the males were lacking in the mass.

SUGAR AGAIN A FEATURE.

It Was Pushed Four Points Above the Closing Price.

Rest of the Market Moves Upward in Sympathy.

Sugar was again the overshadowing feature of the stock market this morning. While the dealers lacked the excitement and feverishness which characterized yesterday's operations, they were far above the average, and the price advanced four points, sales being made at 94 3-4 against 90 1-2 last night.

No one yet knows the definite cause for the rise in the stock, although it is presumably based on the alleged deal at Washington, whereby the Sugar Trust will obtain a discrimination in favor of the refiners.

It is well known that if the Trust gets a protection of only 25 cents a hundred pounds, it will continue to make big money.

The insiders must have enormous profits, and they can work their little scheme through to a successful conclusion, they will be amply rewarded.

The little secret of the matter is that the refiners are credited with performing at Washington.

WARRANT FOR CAPT. BREWER.

He Is Charged with Disposing of Mortgaged Property.

Champion Pigeon Shot Leaves Bridgeton with Unpaid Debts.

BRIDGETON, N. J., March 7.—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Capt. John Brewer, the champion pigeon shot, charging him with disposing of property on which a mortgage had been taken.

The Captain is not in town at present, and it is said he has fled to escape the consequences of his action.

He had been living here for two years with a woman who was supposed to be his wife. Just before he disappeared he said he was not married to her.

Last year the Captain purchased property at a "Lake View." He built a nice cottage and erected a series of pigeon lofts, which he had about 4,000. His building was done on the installment plan.

The last lot of property which he was to pay for was a mortgage on his personal property for $2,000 to John McPherson, of this place, in return for a loan of $2,000.

As Brewer failed to pay for the property, it is alleged, that he shipped eight boxes of his birds to the Riverside (Juniata) Club, another lot to parties in Philadelphia, and a third to his brother in Glasgow.

Now there are only 200 pigeons left. The last lot of property which he was to pay for was a mortgage on his personal property for $2,000 to John McPherson, of this place, in return for a loan of $2,000.
